Louis Graves Has His 'Day' Over Fellow Editors

Editor Louis Graves of the Nashville News took the De Queen Daily Citizen and the daily Hope Star to the cleaners in his Facts & Fancies column of Oct. 17.

Editor Graves wrote:

Pshaw, Editors McKinley of De Queen and Washburn of Hope. Your tardy discovery of automatic curtain raisers for chicken houses belies my faith in your news awareness. A guy in Nashville has been making these labor-saving weather-activated devices for several years, even got his patent through this Spring.

He is not only ahead of you man, but the little old semi-weekly Nashville News is out front of the De Queen Daily Citizen, the Hope Star, AND the Arkansas Gazette.

The story goes like this.

The Arkansas Gazette recently wrote a story about an automatic curtain raiser developed by a former De Queen boy. Editor McKinley of De Queen knew nothing about it until he read the Arkansas Gazette. His comment - "I'm guilty of not reading my Sunday Arkansas Gazette past the sports page. Otherwise I would have seen that big half-page spread in the feature section about Harry Broadwell, an old De Queen boy who has invented a device to draw the drapes on brother houses. . . this might not sound like a big deal when compared to the invention of the wheel, but it's a major breakthrough in the poultry industry."

Editor Washburn enters the script thusly:

"J. R. McKinley, who writes the column for the De Queen Daily Citizen, usually manages to latch onto at least one important piece of news in every edition. In this case the item comes to him secondhand from the Arkansas Gazette, but even so he is due credit for this writer missed the Gazette piece entirely."

The Nashville News? Why gentlemen on July 4, 1972 we printed a picture and story on Billy White and his automatic-curtain controls for chicken houses, Patent No. 3,689,350 from the US patent office, and applied for way back on Dec. 11, 1970. Ere Spring arrived Bill had 360 units out and functioning.

Gentlemen of the press in Hope and De Queen might check chicken growers in their own backyard and find Bill's automatic curtain controls saving the farmer time and money.

That "break through" for the industry happened a couple years back, fellow editors, but we haven't given up hope for our contemporary newspapers, Daily Citizen, and Star. The Gazette? Yep!

Signing of bill today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon flew to Philadelphia today to sign a revolutionary $30.2 billion revenue-sharing bill in the nation's birthplace.

The chief executive left the White House South Lawn by helicopter at 11:21 a.m. EDT for the ceremony to place into effect the legislation he proposed two years ago.

Meanwhile, in Philadelphia before Nixon left Washington, 16 antiwar protesters were arrested as they set up an early protest of Nixon's planned visit. The demonstrators had gathered Thursday night and those arrested refused to move their demonstration into a designated area.

Living cost accelerates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living, led by higher prices for clothing, accelerated in September and pushed the rate of inflation to 3.5 per cent since President Nixon's Phase 2 price controls began, the government said today.

The administration says it wants to reduce the rate of inflation to the range of 2 to 3 per cent by the end of the year. On a seasonally adjusted basis, the September rise amounted to 6 per cent. On an unadjusted basis it was 4.8 per cent.

The bureau said that the sharp rise in clothing prices came partly because of the end of summer clearance sales on some items and the introduction of fall and winter clothing.

Used car prices went up and gasoline prices continued to go up sharply, while new car prices failed to decline as much as they usually do when the model year comes to an end.

Also going up were prices for most home furnishings, principally textiles and stainless steel flatware.

The bureau said that the index for food bought at grocery stores—which usually goes down in September—increased by one-tenth of one per cent. It said that beef prices dropped for the first time since May and much more than usual in September.

The prices of fresh fruits and vegetables actually went down, but the drop was smaller than usual. The price of coffee increased.

The bureau said the September Cost of Living Index moved to 126.2, meaning that what $100 bought in 1967 cost $126.20 last month.

Nonfood commodities increased seven-tenths of one per cent last month, on an unadjusted basis, but with seasonal influences subtracted the increase was four-tenths of one per cent. Services rose two-tenths of one per cent, the same as in August.

Visit sparks speculation on cease-fire

SAIGON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger and President Nguyen Van Thieu conferred for nearly four hours today amid reports that a partial cease-fire was being discussed.

It was the third meeting in two days between President Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser and the leader of the Saigon government.

There was no immediate word on Kissinger's next move, but some sources indicated he would remain in Saigon at least through Saturday and most likely would see Thieu again.

Kissinger was accompanied to the meeting today by U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, Deputy Ambassador Charles S. Whitehouse and Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the U.S. Army chief of staff.

South Vietnamese sources who reported that a cease-fire proposal was figuring in the talks said it probably called for only a partial truce as a "good will" gesture that could lead to further agreements.

"It is impossible to have any cease-fire that could be enforced, even by international body," said one South Vietnamese official. "It might mean an end to bombing and mining of the North and perhaps an exchange of prisoners, but it would be impossible to guarantee any kind of a cease-fire in the South where the fighting is going on."

The chief stumbling block to a cease-fire agreement has been Thieu's rejection of the Communist condition that he resign and give way to a three-faction coalition government including the Communists.

There has been widespread speculation that Kissinger is trying to persuade Thieu to step down, and the South Vietnamese information ministry in a communique Thursday said the president had renewed his vow "never to accept" a coalition regime.

A number of Thieu's political opponents refused an invitation to meet with him Thursday night to discuss the current status of the peace effort.

"Many of us feel that Thieu is trying to create a myth about opposition to a tripartite government proposal," said one political foe of the president. "We feel he is only pretending to ask for opinions to strengthen his position. We are not willing to be used for such propaganda, so we have refused to meet with him."

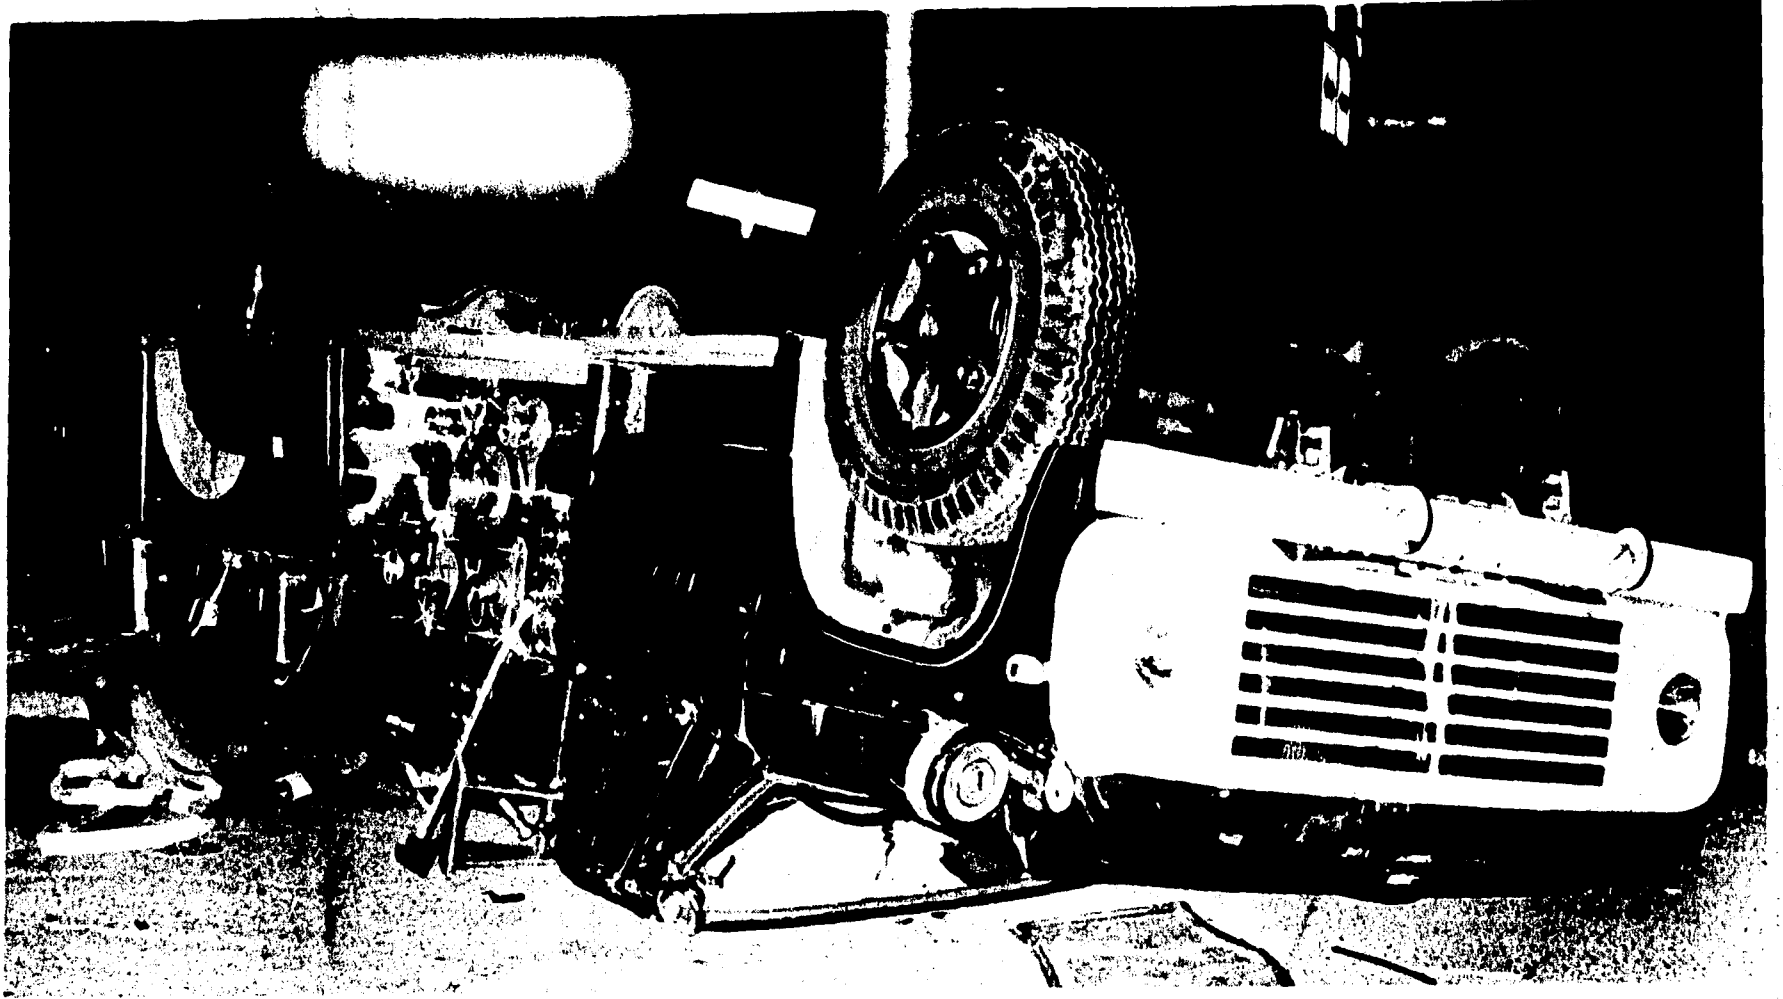

The State Department disclosed Thursday night that a veteran of the Paris peace talks and of the U.S. Embassy in Saigon, Philip A. Habib, arrived in Saigon on Wednesday to consult with Kissinger. Now ambassador to South Korea, he was a member of the U.S. team in Paris from the start of the talks in 1968 until 1971.

Revamping of system is urged

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J. Bill Becker, president of the Arkansas State AFL-CIO, told the Governor's Committee to Study School Finance and Property Tax Thursday that the tax system to finance public schools must be made more progressive.

Becker said if the tax is to be an effective instrument for financing public schools, the state government must play a more forceful role. He said state standards on assessments should be mandatory and enforceable.

Becker said the election of assessors should be eliminated and the assessors should be full-time professional employees of the state, under protection of a merit system.

Fire truck flipped enroute to fire

Hope Fire Department's newest pumper—a 1969 Ford valued at $20,000—was extensively damaged early today when it flipped and came to rest on its top following a collision with a cement truck at the intersection of Main and Third Sts. about 5:15 a.m. Two firemen — Dorsey Huckabee, 49, a 19-year veteran with the department, and Wendell Avery, 34, the driver, were injured in the collision; both were rushed to Memorial Hospital. Huckabee was treated and released, and Avery is being held for observation. The driver of the Southern Cement truck of Okay, Glen Dossey of Mineral Springs, was not injured. The fire truck was traveling south on Main, enroute to a house fire on 16th St. (See fire photo below.) The cement truck, traveling east on Third, hit the back wheel of the fire truck, overturning it. Both firemen escaped from a side window. Damage to the cement truck was estimated at about $800. New type of spying:

CIA reports used by grain spy?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Midwest congressman says secret Central Intelligence Agency reports may have been used by a so-called international grain spy who fed inside tips to a Kansas City trade magazine about huge U.S. wheat sales to the Russians.

Rep. Roman C. Pucinski, D-Ill., told The Associated Press that the CIA earlier this year furnished the Agriculture Department with a detailed account of Soviet crop failures which led to the $1-billion sale of U.S. wheat and other grain to Moscow.

Further, Pucinski said, telephone calls purportedly made from London in July and August to Milling & Baking News, Kansas City, probably placed by a USDA employee who had access to the CIA information.

The magazine's subscribers largely are grain dealers, exporters, flour millers and bakers.

The grain sales, including more than 400 million bushels of wheat, or one-fourth of the U.S. crop, have prompted allegations by Sen. George McGovern and others that private American grain companies were able to reap windfall profits because of inside information fed to them by Nixon administration farm officials.

A detailed account of a month-long series of phone calls to Kansas City by the mysterious tipster was published Oct. 3 by the magazine's editor, Morton Sosland.

The caller, at first identifying himself as "Mr. Smith" of the London Financial Times, provided Sosland with details—later proved to be accurate—on the timing and volume of the Soviet wheat purchases.

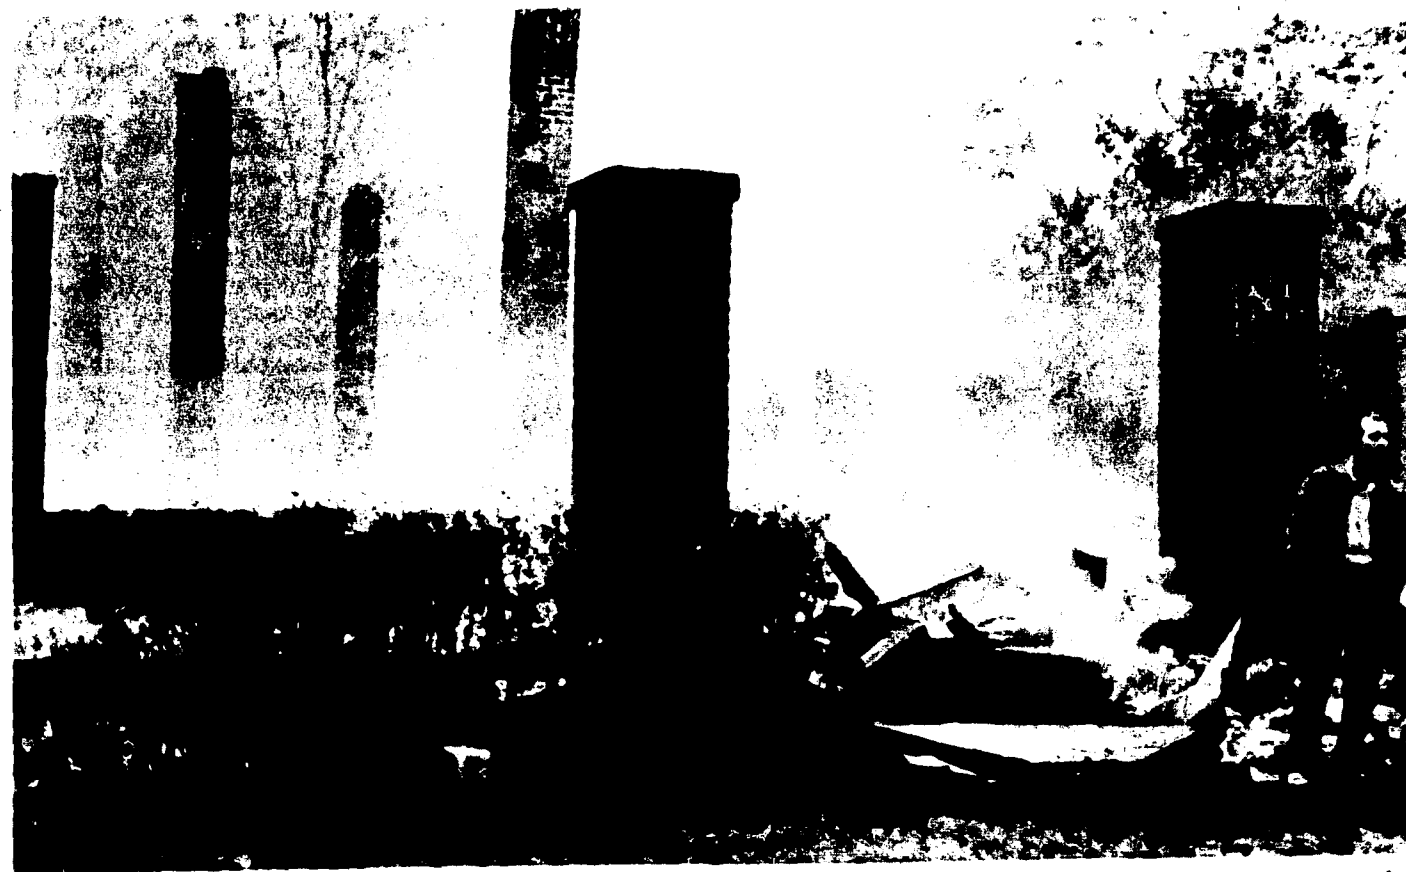

The calls began July 17, weeks before the public or the grain industry was fully aware of the size of the Russian sales. Sosland later found the London newspaper employed no Mr. Smith as a grain expert.

Sosland said his magazine delayed reports based on the calls because the informant's story seemed fantastic, but carried the stories later.

Pucinski, who is campaigning for the Senate seat held by Charles Percy, R-Ill., said he is certain the CIA gave the Agriculture Department a full report on the Russian crop situation, information which Pucinski said the department suppressed.

"It's a correct statement and I am satisfied that my sources of information are reliable, and that the report was never released by the Department of Agriculture," he said in a telephone interview from Chicago.

Discussing the telephone calls described by Sosland, the Illinois congressman said that of the conceivable possibilities it seemed most likely that the information was passed by a USDA employee.

'Lemley Home' razed

The old Lemley Home located just off 16th St. here was razed by an early-morning fire which was caused by an attic heating unit, according to the Hope Fire Department.

A resident of the house, H. L. Reichle, discovered the fire about 4:30 a.m., but was forced to use a citizens' band radio in an effort to contact the fire department due to no phone in the home.

Reichle finally contacted a Hope Police car which in turn contacted the fire department. Enroute to the fire, Hope's primary pumper was involved in a wreck (see photo above), and a second fire truck was dispatched to the fire. The fire was out of control when the second engine arrived.

Hunt for Boggs enters fourth day

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Search officials awaited data today from electronic sensing devices as the hunt for a missing light plane carrying House Democratic Leader Hale Boggs and three others entered its fourth day.

Rescue crews refused Thursday night to give up hope that the four would be found alive.

Cornelia Boggs said she and members of her family who arrived here two days ago would return tonight to Washington, D.C., to wait for further word of the search for her husband and his companions.

The Air Force reported that a 2,000-mile-an-hour SR71 reconnaissance plane capable of electronically surveying more than 60,000 square miles in an hour had been pressed into the search on Thursday.

Data gathered by the plane's infrared sensors and cameras was being processed at Beale

Air Force Base, Calif., and will be turned over to military authorities here late today, a spokesman said.

With the 58-year-old Boggs on the Cessna 310 which disappeared Monday on a 600-mile flight from Anchorage to Juneau were Rep. Nick Begich of Alaska, 40; Russell Brown, 37, a Begich aide; and the pilot, Don E. Jonz, 38, of Fairbanks. Boggs was in Alaska to help Begich in his bid for a second term.

Weather in the search area cleared Thursday after two days of fog, rain and snow. But more rain, snow and fog were predicted for today, with the cloud level expected to drop to 500 feet.

More than 70 airplanes scoured the Cessna's flight path along the rugged coastline between Anchorage and the Alaska capital on Thursday.

McGovern is 'punny' at dinner

NEW YORK AP — Sen. George McGovern, reluctantly sharing top billing with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, has approved President Nixon for being the White House candidate who didn't come to dinner.

The Democratic presidential nominee didn't particularly want to come either.

The setting was the 27th Alfred E. Smith memorial dinner, the traditional forum for White House campaigns.

McGovern tentatively accepted his invitation, decided when he learned that Nixon wouldn't be there, then switched again at the last minute and turned up in rented white tie and tails.

"I'm sorry that President Nixon can't be with us tonight," McGovern told some 2,000 people at the charity dinner. "But I'm sure that somewhere, somehow he's listening in."

McGovern's appearance became an item of concern to the nominee and his strategists when they learned that his Republican counterpart would be not the President, who tops the GOP ticket, but the vice president.

Richard Dougherty, McGovern's press secretary, said McGovern did not want to be paired with the Republican's No. 2 man.

"We're a little fed up with surrogates," said Dougherty.

But by midday, as McGovern campaigned in Philadelphia, his camp had received word that Archbishop Terrence Cardinal Cooke of New York was distressed that he wasn't coming. Dougherty said that message was relayed through McGovern's campaign organization in New York.

Sponsors of the dinner had announced a week ago that McGovern and Agnew would be there.

And McGovern decided to attend after all.

McGovern took his seat at the rose-decked Waldorf-Astoria ballroom, one place away from Agnew. He spoke first, more than an hour before the vice president came on. Agnew applauded at the nonpartisan portion of McGovern's brief speech, and the two shook hands as the Democratic nominee left.

Flying back to Washington, a reporter asked Agnew about his meeting with McGovern. "What meeting?" the vice president replied. "I asked him how Eleanor was and he said she was a little tired."

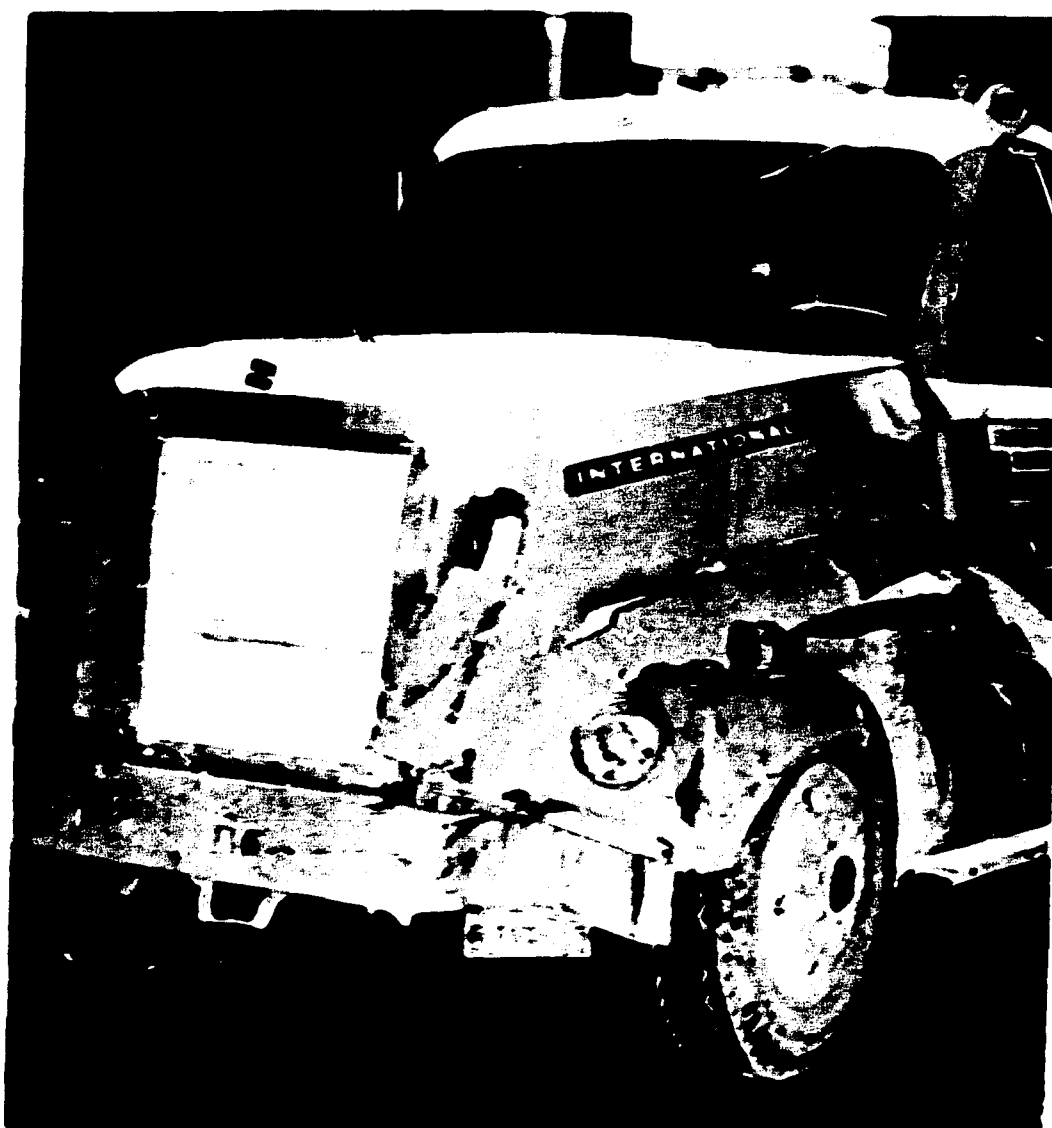

Charles H. Silver, dinner chairman, said that McGovern spoke earlier than scheduled because he had to leave due to the illness of his wife, Eleanor.

He returned to Washington Thursday night, but only briefly. McGovern was flying back to New York early today for a Manhattan labor breakfast.

The audience of the Waldorf charity banquet was in stark contrast to McGovern's earlier appearance in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn.

Appearing for black votes at a rally in a community-center theater there, McGovern said:

"No matter what happens on Nov. 7 I'm still going to be a United States senator, my future will be secure. It's not my neck that's on the line in this election. It's yours."

Vietnamese skirmishing with units near Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces skirmished today with enemy units infiltrating in the defensive belt around Saigon while government rangers fell back before a determined counterattack in the northern province of Quang Ngai, military sources reported.

Communist troops were driven out of a riverside hamlet in an all-night engagement 13 miles north of the capital, the Saigon command announced.

Some 300 enemy soldiers still were hiding out in the lush farms and banana groves around the little town of Bung, 10 miles north of Saigon, after rocketing the local administrative headquarters, officers in the field reported. A task force of government rangers is hunting for them.

U.S. B52 bombers dropped some 700 tons of bombs on Communist staging areas within 22 miles of Saigon.

Enemy forces slammed 20 rockets into Bung Can village, on highway 13, 24 miles north of Saigon, this morning. Two militiamen were killed and five wounded.

In Quang Ngai Province, the Rangers drove the North Vietnamese from positions near Ba To, but two hours later the Communist forces launched a fierce counterattack. The battle went on for an hour before the rangers retreated to positions 200 yards farther back.

They claimed more than 150 North Vietnamese were killed.

50 of them by air strikes. Government losses were described as "moderate."

U.S. fighter-bombers flew more than 210 air strikes against North Vietnam Thursday, the U.S. Command announced. Air Force F4 Phantom destroyed a railroad by-pass bridge 92 miles northwest of Hanoi, the Command claimed.

State group for Nixon started

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Rep. George Nowotny of Fort Smith heads what he calls a "bipartisan" state organization with the primary goal of retaining President Richard M. Nixon.

The organization is bipartisan in that both Republicans and Democrats in Arkansas have linked forces to try and see that Nixon gets another four years in the White House.

Nowotny is the state coordinator for the Committee to Re-elect the President. He is not running for re-election himself this time because, "I can't do both jobs effectively."

He heads a seemingly broad-based organization campaigning for the president through 15 regional headquarters aimed at a statewide canvass of support for Nixon.

Former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller is chairman of the Committee, and under him are two state coordinators.

Rep. John Paul Hammettschmidt, R-Ark., is chairman of the Republican faction of the re-election effort, while R. A. Young Jr. of Fort Smith is the chairman of a committee of Arkansas Democrats in support of Nixon. Executive director of the committee is Douglas Wood of Little Rock.

"This makes the Arkansas committee a bipartisan group," says Nowotny, who is in his third term as minority leader of the Arkansas House of Representatives.

"I'm the day-to-day coordinator for all of this," Nowotny said. "I keep the former governor informed as to what we're doing. In light of his recent illness, he has been much less active than he had intended to be."

In some instances, Nowotny said that the 15 regional headquarters are shared by the Republican county campaign headquarters. Some serve as Nixon headquarters only.

The 15 regional headquarters are located at Fayetteville, E. Dardot, Fayetteville, Fort Smith, Harrison, Hot Springs, Jonesboro, Mountain Home, North Little Rock, Pine Bluff, Rogers, Russellville, Texarkana, West Memphis and West Helena.

"In these 15 we have one paid employee who is paid to keep the place open on a day-to-day basis. These people also work as sort of regional canvass coordinators," he said.

The reason for only 15 regional headquarters is because "we didn't have finances for all 75 counties." The 15 most populous areas were chosen and a headquarters established.

Besides acting as receptionist, staffers in these 15 regional headquarters do some work with volunteers in the areas, and just generally "keep the place functioning."

There are also paid "field men" with the statewide Republican effort, plus paid staffers—secretaries, receptionists—in the main headquarters in Little Rock.

"But the whole thrust of our campaign is a volunteer effort in all 75 counties," says Nowotny. "They go door-to-door, house-to-house, stay on the telephone and try, basically, to identify support for the President and see that the person contacted is registered, or if an absentee ballot is needed, or if the person needs a ride to the polls."

"It's just plain old grassroots politics," said Nowotny. Nowotny says that there are maybe four or five counties that will not be covered in the volunteer canvass effort.

"We're working to get all 75 counties," Nowotny said. "There may be four or five we will not get to. There are no specific ones I could name. We're trying to get to them all."

For the counties, Nowotny says that lists, forms and instructional workshops are provided.

Volunteer recruitment help comes from citizens groups which seek persons to help in the campaign. There are about 30 of these groups in the state. "Many of these people are very prominent in their field," says Nowotny.

"It's a pyramid type thing. These people go out and recruit others, then give these names to Washington. Letters are sent to them, and their names in turn given to us," he said.

Another source of names of potential volunteers comes from previous Republican campaign lists, and the Democrats for Nixon provides names of prominent Democrats in the state who might help. The Democrats also write letters to other Democrats.

Saturday is 'Day' for the president

Saturday will be a "Day for the President" in Hope. Nixon supporters in Hope will be working as volunteers for the re-election of President Nixon.

Women for Nixon will be stationed in the shopping centers handing out Pat Nixon's Hot Chicken Salad recipe and campaign literature. They will be dressed in red, white, and blue aprons and a Nixon hat. Mrs. Clarence Geist, president of the Hempstead County Republican Women, will head the group. Women that would like to help are asked to meet at the "Little Red Barn"—the Nixon headquarters at the old Kroger building on Second Street at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The "Youth for Nixon" on a "Day for the President" will be headed by Mike Hickabee. They will be washing car windshields and leaving a card which reads: "Hope you can see your way clear to vote for President Nixon." Also the youth will be handing out campaign literature and getting donations for the "Little Red Barn" which will be given away election day.

Haskell Jones will head the "Men for Nixon". They will be working at the headquarters, putting up yard signs and handing out literature.

The "Day for the President" will be observed in all the 50 states. The idea was originated by the National Federation of Republican Women. Half a million women across the nation will be working on this day as well as Youth and Men for Nixon. In Arkansas 35 Republican Women's Clubs have various activities planned for their areas.

Linda Bell had charge of the program. Melba Bain won the Hi-Ha Box and JoAnn Pine received her feather weight charm.

On Monday, Nov. 6 the club will draw for new Secret Pals. Anyone interested in losing weight is invited to come to the Douglas Building on Monday night at 7 p.m.

Going-away coffee held

Mrs. Hansford Long entertained in her home Thursday with a going-away coffee honoring Mrs. Robert Vandiver who is moving to Perryville.

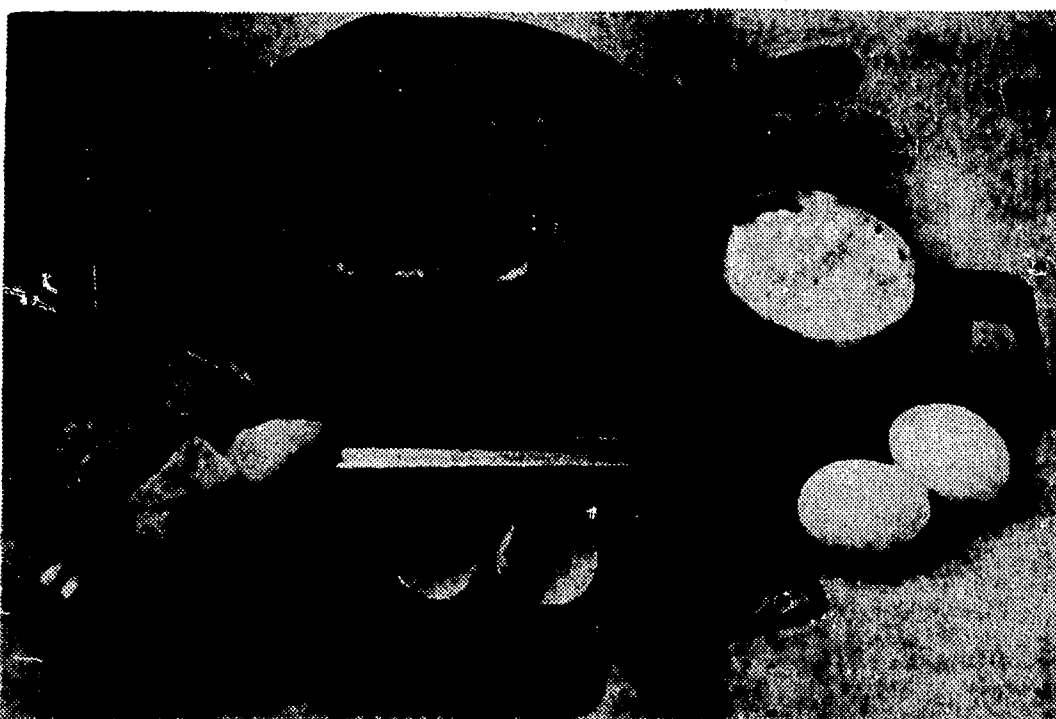

Mrs. Wayne Bohannon, Mrs. Jan Andrews and Mrs. Bill Rick were co-hostesses.

Cookies, finger pastry nuts, mints cake and coffee were served, and good conversation was enjoyed by the 24 attending.

A carriage made up of useful things was given the honoree by the hostess Mrs. Long.

Halloween Boxty: From Irish kitchens

FOR HALLOWEEN — Follow an old Irish custom and serve Boxty-in-the-Pan.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

There's a charming Halloween custom in Ireland. We came upon a description of it in "Feasting Glorie — Recipes and Food Lore from Ireland" by Maura Laverty (Holt, Rinehart and Winston). Here is what the author says:

"In the North and West of Ireland, boxty sometimes takes the place of the Halloween barmbrack as a prognosticator of the year's weddings. A ring wrapped in wax paper is mixed in with the batter. And the girls are warned:

Boxty-on-the-griddle, boxty-in-the-pan. If you don't eat boxty, you'll never get your man."

But Boxty-in-the-Pan is too good to serve only on Halloween. If you try the following recipe, we think you'll agree. We find it tastes wonderful with roast beef and makes a fine substitute for Yorkshire Pudding.

BOXTY-IN-THE-PAN

1 1/4 cups water
3 medium-small potatoes
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 cup milk
1/4 cup butter, melted
1 tablespoon bacon fat

In a 1 1/2-quart saucepan bring water to a boil. Peel 2 of the potatoes; cut into 8ths; add to boiling water. Cover and boil over medium heat until potatoes are soft and water has cooked away — 12 to 15 minutes; check often to avoid scorching. Mash potatoes through food mill; measure 3/4 cup firmly packed. (If there is any leftover, use in another dish.)

On wax paper sift together the flour, baking powder and salt; set aside.

Beat eggs; add milk, butter.

Peel remaining potato and finely shred; squeeze to remove water. There should be about 1/4 cup shredded potato after squeezing.

In a large mixing bowl, thoroughly mix shredded potato with mashed potato. With a pastry blender mix in sifted flour mixture until fine crumbs are formed. Stir in milk mixture until flour is completely dampened.

Spoon bacon fat into a 9-inch cast-iron skillet. Place in a preheated 425-degree oven for about 5 minutes to heat bacon fat and pan. Remove pan from oven and swirl bacon fat over bottom of pan. Add batter. Return pan to oven and bake until top is browned and edges are crisp and browned — 35 to 40 minutes. Serve from pan; or turn out of pan, turn right side up. Cut into wedges. Serve hot with butter.

Makes 6 servings.

American Legion Auxiliary slates Poppy Day Nov. 11

"Education and Scholarship" was the theme of the American Legion Auxiliary Leslie Hudson Unit 12 held Tuesday evening, October 17, in the home of Mrs. Joe Jones. A Gift Scholarship of $150.00 is to be awarded again this year to the son or daughter of a needy veteran family who completes high school and desires to further his or her education by entering a college or trade school of their choice. Applications may be obtained by calling Mrs. Joe Jones, Auxiliary President, 777-0888. Mrs. Charles Taylor, Membership Chairman, reported 50 senior members and 12 juniors and urges all members November 11th is the deadline for securing our 1973 Girls State quota.

Poppy Day was set for Saturday, November 11, and a Veterans Day Program is being arranged and will be presented at the 11 o'clock hour on Saturday, November 11, at the Memorial Monument on the courthouse lawn. All citizens are invited to attend.

National American Education Week will be observed October 22-28 and all local parents and interested people are asked to participate by visiting and taking part. The theme being "Help Schools Bridge The Gap". Dessert and coffee was served by the hostess.

HELEN BOTTEL

No Marriage Contract for Me!

DEAR HELEN:

The legal marriage contracts I've seen run four or five pages of fine print and cover every little detail, from who gets what money, to specifics about each person's rights and privileges. Also, even more important: duties!

But the most common marriage contract—the license—leaves out all the clauses that would make sense, retaining only senseless jobberwocky.

I suggested drawing up an agreement for my fiancée and I to sign and have notarized, then file with a lawyer, to whom we'll go in case of divorce. Or better yet, if everything is agreed upon, we wouldn't need a lawyer—we'd just present the paper to a judge, take our rightful property and split.

My fiancée says this is cold-blooded and, if I'm expecting a divorce, why marry? I say it is practical. You don't expect a fire, but you buy fire insurance, just in case.

What do you say? — FORWARD-LOOKING BRIDEGRROOM DEAR F.L.B.:

You're right: a marriage contract is practical.

Your fiancée is right: putting human emotions on a business basis DOES seem cold-blooded.

Perhaps a detailed legal contract with rights, privileges—and duties—clearly defined might help dissuade mismatched couples from marrying. It COULD make people realize that marriage is a serious, full-time venture.

On the other hand, what love-struck pair bothers to read the fine print—or the writing on the wall?

My advice: if your fiancée doesn't want to plan for the divorce before the marriage, don't push it! —H. DEAR HELEN:

The grown children of elderly widows or widowers often prevent re-marriage for these lonely people because they fear they'll be done out of inheritances. My husband and I (we're 65 and 68 and newlyweds) avoided worry and got our children's blessings by drawing up a simple contract that says the house is mine, the trailer house on mountain property his, and so on down the line. Whichever of us dies first, the other only gets what is listed as his or hers in the contract.

DEAR FOR A DROP

LONDON (AP) — Cups of tea for three workmen cost a bank more than $100,000.

The workmen left a security door open at the Oxford Street, London, bank when they went for tea. Three armed bandits dressed as workmen walked in, broke into a locked room, held up staff counting money and helped themselves to 40,000 pounds — $104,000.

This, together with our wills, provides for our heirs—and for us.

It's a simple matter, and prevents much family conflict. After all, I wouldn't blame my children for being upset if my second marriage might mean the old family home went to HIS children. —PROVIDENT ELDER

DEAR READERS:

Here is an area where marriage contracts are essential. They should be considered a part of the package in second marriages when children are involved. (And of course all subsequent unions too.) —H.

DEAR HELEN:

During the 30 years of our married life, I held two jobs so as to provide a good home for my wife and children. Now the kids are married and on their own—or so I thought!

My wife and I saved for our retirement years. But now it seems to be the "style" to give your married kids money for down payments on nice homes, to buy most of their furniture for them, to never let them strive or wait until they earn their goals. It's being done by parents all over town. My wife doesn't want to "look cheap." But when we eat hamburgers while our children eat lobsters and steak, I'd say financing their new home would make us look like potays. Let them work for it, as we did! Right, Helen?

—HELEN

DEAR FRED:

Right!! Why not tell your kids you'll finance their home ONLY if you two have live-in privileges the rest of your lives? That should cool 'em! —H.

For Friday, Oct. 20

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 19): Your impulses today may be a bit too ambitious and reckless. Think, think, think before you act.

TAURUS (Apr 20-May 20): Don't be the bull in the china shop. If you won't make concessions, don't expect them from others.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Refrain from overselling ideas to your social contacts. Politics is a volatile issue. Treat it cautiously.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): It will be difficult to act independently of others. Even though their demands are irritating, keep your temper in check.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22): Not one of your better days for travel. Eliminate possible sources of frustration by keeping it to a minimum.

VIRGO (Aug 23-Sept 22): Your usual prudence in handling material matters could be put to the test today. Spend only what's necessary.

LIBRA (Sept 23-Oct 23): Several demanding situations may clamor for attention. Allow your instincts to be your guide in making decisions.

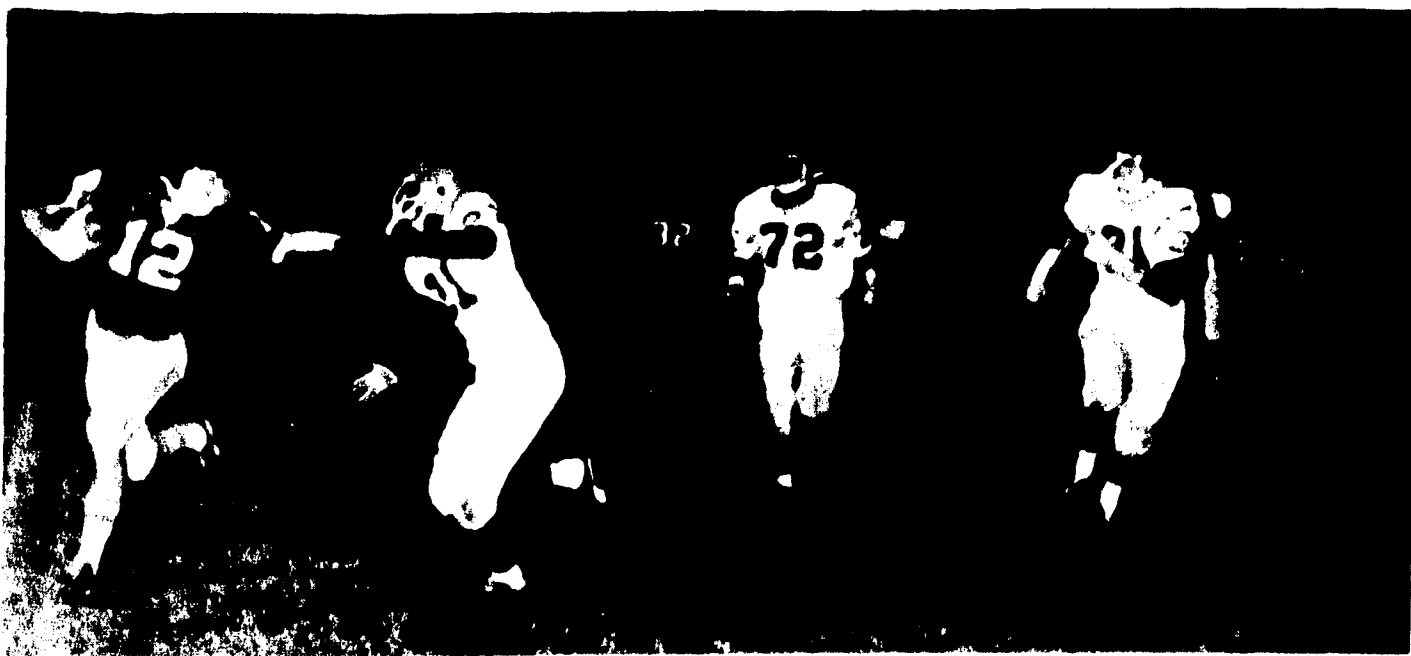

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov 22): Underhanded methods of others, working behind your back, could cause you to overreact. Don't. They'll get theirs.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21): An acquaintance could whet your appetite with a get-rich-quick scheme. It may be good for him, but not for you.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 19): Your reputation could be in for some lumps if you make the wrong moves. Thoughtful judgment is necessary today.

AQUARIUS (Jan 20-Feb 19): Don't push your luck too far. It might boomerang and require you to make fresh beginnings.

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20): Your intuition should lead you over the rough spots. Try to clear up old obligations, overdue bills.

Hope faces tough test

By ALAN FOSTER
Star Sports Writer

The moment of truth has arrived. Hope is 3-1, Magnolia is 4-0. The Cats travel to Magnolia Friday night to face the mighty Panthers. The outcome will decide the outcome of all this year's activity in 7AA.

Magnolia has a versatile offense, they can run or throw equally as well but like to rely heavily on the passing arm of Ken Barker and the sure hands of Marvin Lindsey to carry them to victory.

The Cats are just as much in the running as Magnolia. Hope hasn't got the publicity that Malvern or Magnolia has. Everyone has failed to take the Cats seriously. But all eyes will be on them this week. The Bobcats are tough in all aspects of the game as Hope fans well know. And Magnolia had better watch out. They're in for the fight of their lives.

You see, this same situation arose last year. Hope still had a chance to catch the Panthers. It was Hope's Homecoming and they fell 19-12. And one word could sum it all up. REVENGE.

Razorbacks battle Longhorns

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The University of Texas has produced a new game — Guess The Defense.

The participants this week are the University of Arkansas coaching staff.

The prize is the favorite's role in the Southwest Conference and there will even be a national television audience for the meeting Saturday night at Austin, Tex.

Arkansas, 4-1 for the season, is 2-0 in the SWC. Texas, 3-1 after a 27-0 loss to Oklahoma last week, is 1-0 in the conference. The winner in this series has captured the conference championship seven of the last 11 years.

"We've kind of known what to expect from them in the past," says Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles. "But, not this year. We've had to work on a lot of things because we don't know how they classify us."

"They played one scheme against Texas Tech who has two wide outs (receivers) and then they played an entirely different scheme against Utah State which has two wide outs," Broyles said. "They used a combination against Miami and then went to another scheme against Oklahoma's Wishbone."

Texas' defense, which Longhorn Coach Darrell Royal said gave a "fanatical effort," permitted the Sooners previous little last week.

Oklahoma's defense scored two touchdowns—a blocked kick and a fumbled pitchout—and the Longhorns' offense left the Sooners in excellent position for their other touchdown and two field goals. The one touchdown scored by the Oklahoma offense came on a 35-yard drive.

Oklahoma, which had averaged more than 620 yards in its first three games, netted only 273 yards against Texas.

"Broyles said Texas' defense gave up "nothing ... inside, outside or anywhere."

Broyles says he should know early Saturday night how Texas plans to defend against Arkansas' attack, which features the passing of quarterback Joe Ferguson and the impromptu running halfbacks Dickey Morton and John Richardson.

Arkansas uses two and sometimes three wide receivers and operates from the split back-field as well as the I formation.

"We'll mix them up according to what we want to do," Broyles said. He admitted that the Razorbacks plan to use three wide receivers "quite a bit."

Arkansas used the three wide receivers—Jim Hodge, Mike Reppond and Jack Ettinger—A great deal against TCU and Ferguson had his best game of the year, completing 20 of 32 for 304 yards and four touchdowns.

Ferguson shot down Texas last year, completing 14 of 24 passes for 249 yards and three touchdowns in a 31-7 victory. Arkansas later slipped up against Texas A&M and Rice and Texas returned to the Cotton Bowl for the fourth straight year.

Last year, the Longhorns attempted to spread out and defend. It was revealed earlier this week that Texas would use All-America offensive tackle Jerry Sisemore at middle guard against Arkansas to help rush Ferguson. Sisemore is 6-foot-4, 280 pounds and exceptionally quick.

The Longhorns have also been working linebacker Randy Braband at defensive tackle to help with the pass rush.

Arkansas' offense consists primarily of Ferguson's passing and getting the football to Morton and Richardson on draw plays, screen passes and counter plays.

"Our advantage is that Morton and Richardson can see daylight," Broyles said.

"You can't draw a plan and tell them where to run. They just take a look and do what comes naturally. Some of Dickey's biggest plays have come when he broke outside after it was obvious to everyone that he was going off-tackle on the sprint-draw play."

Morton, second in the SWC in rushing, was named Offensive Player of the Week in the conference this week for his performance against Baylor—34 carries for 157 yards and two touchdowns.

Bobkittens lose to Magnolia

By RICKY FAWCETT
Star Sports Writer

More things than the weather snapped last night. The Hope Bobkitten's five game win streak was broken by the Magnolia Cubs, 22-6. The Bobkitten defense played another fine game while the offense never cranked up like earlier games.

Magnolia drew first blood on a 73 yard punt return by Ford Summers. The two point conversion was good and Magnolia led 8-0 with 1:33 left in the first quarter.

The Cubs scored again with 4:27 left in the first half. On another punt. But this punt was fumbled by Hope and Magnolia's Johnny Jennings picked up the ball and ran to paydirt. The conversion was short, but Magnolia still led 14-0.

The fourth quarter brought a lot of excitement to the fans. On the first play of the quarter, Elvin Davis hauled in a 12 yard pass for Hope's lone touchdown. The conversion was short and Magnolia held a 14-6 lead.

The Cubs then drove 70 yards in 8 plays for their third and final touchdown. Tommy Robertson ran 6 yards for the score with only 47 seconds left in the game. The run-conversion was good, making the final score 22 to 6, Magnolia.

Next week the Bobkittens take a 5-2 record to Camden Fairview for the final game of the season.

A's grab solid lead in series

OAKLAND (AP) — "All three had Sparky's name on them," said usually mild-mannered Gene Tenace, displaying the meaning of his given first name—Fury.

Tenace, the Oakland Athletics' catcher whose home run and single helped the A's take a 3-1 lead over Cincinnati in the 1972 World Series, ripped Manager Sparky Anderson and his National League champion Reds.

"I don't feel that that club over there has any respect for us," said Tenace, whose "all three" referred to the trio of home runs he has hit so far in the Series.

Tenace lambasted the Reds for remarks printed in newspapers knocking the American League champion A's.

After Tenace's two homers won the first game of the Series in Cincinnati, Anderson was quoted as saying, "That kid hasn't done much before."

That really upset me," said Tenace, the son of a former Pennsylvania coal miner. "I know I hit only five home runs during the season, but that's not an indication of how I hit. I played against Sparky in the minors and hit pretty good. He upset me talking that way."

Tenace was just getting warmed up on Anderson. He then turned his attention to Cincinnati catcher Johnny Bench.

"How about Bench saying that if anybody should hit two home runs it should be him? For crying out loud, give another guy credit."

Tenace not only hit a home run in Thursday night's fourth game, but his single in the ninth placed the tying run in scoring position and he eventually scored the winning run in the 3-2 triumph.

"It's been a disappointing season and this World Series is making up for it," said Tenace, who didn't become the regular Oakland catcher until the final two months of the season.

How come he sat on the bench so long before A's Manager Dick Williams made him a starter?

"I'd rather not discuss that," he said. "Just say I'm happy with what's happening right now."

"I can't explain why I'm getting home runs," he said. "Really, I'm a line-drive hitter. I guess the man upstairs has been with me in this Series."

Tenace admitted that he looked upon himself as one of the most unlikely series heroes for the A's.

"After going 0 for 15 before getting a hit in the American League playoffs, I wasn't looking for much in the Series."

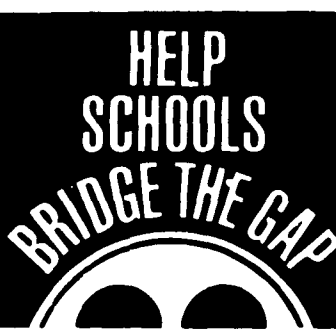

Education week is set Oct. 22-28

The dilemma of today's schools—with their still too high dropout rates, the minimal learning on the part of many who remain in school, and the growing alienation among the young of all colors and classes—will be the focus of American Education Week to be observed here and across the nation Oct. 22.

It is the time of year when the public is urged to come in and see first-hand what goes on inside the classroom.

"The hope is that citizens will implement the theme of this year's observance and 'Help Schools Bridge the Gap' between the promise and the performance of the American educational system," a spokesman for the school said.

American Education Week has been held annually since 1921. It is under the auspices of the National Education Association, The American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U.S. Office of Education. The purpose: to encourage citizens to look intensely at their schools in order to provide adequate support and initiate action toward correcting problems or weaknesses in the education program.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK

"We want interested parents and citizens to find for themselves what areas need improvements and, more important, what the opportunities are for their implementing needed changes," the spokesman said.

Citizens should do more than observe; they should ask questions—of the school board and other officials—and they should give the officials the benefit of their recommendations, the spokesman said.

Redskins picked over Cowboys

NEW YORK (AP) — For awhile Sunday, the Nixon-McGovern battle plays second string in Washington to a National Football League showdown and the choice is for the Redskins to upset the incumbent world champion Dallas Cowboys.

Call the score 21-17. Defense should be the thing, matching a Washington bunch that hasn't allowed a touchdown in eight quarters with the Dallas Doomsday boys who haven't allowed a point in six periods.

It's the first of two National Conference Eastern Division shootouts between coaching masterminds Tom Landry of Dallas and George Allen of Washington.

Sonny Jurgensen should dent the Cowboy defense for the 58 yards he needs to join Baltimore's demoted John Unitas and San Francisco's injured John Brodie as the only 30,000-yard passers in NFL history.

Also in the Redskins' favor is Larry Brown, currently the NFL's hottest ground gainer with 565 yards. He galloped for 110 in 23 tries last week as Washington ripped St. Louis 33-3.

Dallas quarterback Craig Morton was dazzling, a new adjective for him, as the Cowboys battered Baltimore 21-0 in the game that cost Coach Don McCafferty his job.

But now, Roger Staubach—who led Dallas to the Super Bowl crown—is healthy again and lurking in the wings as Morton finds himself continuing under pressure.

Elsewhere, the Miami Dolphins will probably be less sensationally coordinated with Earl Morrall stepping in for injured quarterback Bob Griese, but it shouldn't stop them from staying unbeaten against improved Buffalo.

With somewhat of a shake, we're picking 11 home teams this weekend after last Sunday-Monday saw 10 of 13 visitors trot away with victories.

After a delayed start in the picking business, the debut record was 10-3 for a .769 percentage.

Game-by-game, here's the way it looks elsewhere for the sixth week of the NFL season:

Miami 20, Buffalo 14: Morrall has to be rusty, running back Larry Csonka is bruised but should play and defensive tackle Jim Duva has a bad back. Miami won't have it easy, but placekicker Garo Yepremian should save the day.

Los Angeles 24, Cincinnati 21: Another marvelous matchup and a super Ram offense should be the difference. Coach Paul Brown's defense is tough with Mike Reid equal to any tackle in the business. Actually, it comes down to a slight nod to Roman Gabriel over Bengal quarterback Ken Anderson.

Oakland 27, Denver 10: Dar-yle Lamonica seems to finally have the Raider offense in gear. Denver blew a great shot at victory against Minnesota and the Broncos figure to have one shot at bumping off Oakland—his name is Floyd Little, a running back who would be an NFL idol with a more winning franchise.

Green Bay 13, Atlanta 10: Look for a defense struggle with little Chester Marcol as the hero after ever-improving Pack quarterback Scott Hunter guides within range.

Detroit 17, San Diego 14: Al-tie Taylor's great running and nifty pass receiving weren't enough in Monday night's TV loss to Green Bay, but—thanks to an Errol Mann field goal—it should work Sunday.

New York Giants 31, St. Louis 14: The Giants made me a believer against the 49ers and the Cardinals appear to have one of the NFL's least potent offenses. Coach Alex Webster says the Giants are "Young and happy," so they're solid picks.

New York Jets 26, Baltimore 14: Who knows what the change to John Sandusky as coach and Marty Domres taking over from Unitas at quarterback will have? The Jets have strong running with Emerson Boomer and John Riggins to go with Joe Namath's golden arm.

Pittsburgh 34, New England 24: The Steelers beat Houston handily, but still have something to prove before being considered as challengers for the division title. But, Jim Plunkett and the Pats have even more to prove amid a slump that is at three straight.

Minnesota 26, Chicago 10: Vikings defense, which has fized from the Purple Gang glory days, still should contain the Bears' strong-running, but poor-passing quarterback, Bob-by Douglass. In the Monday TV Special, it's Fran Tarkenton to pass for a couple and repark up his image.

Three Americans to share Nobel Prize

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Three Americans — John Bardeen, Leon Cooper and John Robert Schrieffer — won the 1972 Nobel Physics prize today for their theory of superconductivity, the Royal Swedish Academy of Science announced. It was the second Nobel Award for the oldest of the trio, 64-year-old Dr. Bardeen of the University of Illinois. He shared the 1956 physics prize with two other Americans for the development of the transistor.

Cooper, 42, is a professor at Brown University in Providence, R.I., and Schrieffer, 41, is a professor at the University of Pennsylvania.

The three will divide the $80,000 prize money equally.

The physics award was the third of the five Nobel awards to be announced this year.

Diabetics should limit all sweets

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I can understand that in the case of a diabetic, all sweet stuff is taboo. Yet honey is on that list also, but it is the natural sweetener. Why isn't it allowed?

Dear Reader—Not all doctors restrict all sweets for diabetics although most doctors prefer that the carbohydrates be in less concentrated form, namely in vegetables or natural fruits. The reason for this is to keep the sweets from being absorbed too quickly into the blood and causing a sharp rise in the level of the blood sugar. Recent recommendations from the diabetic society have liberalized the amount of carbohydrates that diabetics can use while restricting the amount of fats, particularly saturated or animal fats in an effort to decrease the possible influence of the diet in diabetics on causing the high incidence of heart disease that diabetics often have. Now the common table sugar that people use is really a double sugar and when it is absorbed through the digestive tract, it is split into two simple sugars, one of these is called glucose, the other is readily converted to glucose which is the form of sugar that the body uses for energy.

It's true that honey is a natural sweetener and its carbohydrates are composed of a single sugar which are directly absorbed into the bloodstream where they are converted to glucose the same as ordinary sugar and have the same effects in that regard. Thus as far as raising the blood sugar level is concerned in the diabetic, both normal sugar and honey will cause this.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

What do you think of North's bidding? Sheer whimsy? Or real top level?

Top level is the answer. North really doesn't have a bid over West's one-spade opening. If he doubles he expects his partner to bid hearts and his minor suits are just four cards each.

Then East barges into Blackwood in direct response to the one-spade opening. North doesn't know just what is going on but he passes at five diamonds and East settles for five spades.

This gets back to North and North should have a pretty good picture of the East hand. He has tried for a slam with just one ace. He must have a lot of hearts and spades and singletons in both minor suits.

South is marked with an ace and probably nothing else, but he certainly should be long in at least one minor since clearly he can't hold more than one spade.

The five no-trump call will get him to bid his better minor and South should not be set more than one trick at six.

Sure enough, South bids six clubs. West doubles. What else would you do?

South looks worried until he sees dummy. Then he ruffs the spade lead; draws trumps; eventually finesesses twice in diamonds and brings home his slam.

Twin popes of Jewish state

TEL AVIV (AP) — Legend says that when the Old Testament was handed down from heaven, a sword was wrapped in the scrolls.

This week two men forged by the sword and the Bible are preparing to take over as chief rabbis of Israel, the new twin popes of the Jewish state.

One is a retired brigadier general, Shlomo Goren, silver-haired former chaplain to the Israeli defense forces, veteran paratrooper, winner of a sharpshooter's badge, and the man who succeeded in moulding ancient Jewish law to suit life in a modern army.

The other is Iraqi-born Ovadia Yosef, who as a rabbinical judge in Egypt 24 years ago opposed the authorities and helped hundreds of Jews escape in a modern exodus to Israel.

Goren and Yosef were elected last Sunday to head the religious establishment by 180 Jewish Biblical scholars and politicians who reject the intolerance of the previous chief rabbis toward Israel's secular majority.

"Anyone who thinks I am going to cause revolutions is mistaken. I do not intend to deviate one iota from Halacha — ancient Jewish law," Goren said after the election. But he added he intends to prove that "it is possible to live in modern times in keeping with the law."

Yosef said his ambition was to "restore the rabbinate — which has sunk to an all-time low — to its former glory."

Goren, 56, a father of three, and Yosef, 52, who has 11 children, are expected to take office in about two months. Goren was elected to lead Israel's Ashkenazic community of European-born Jews. Yosef heads the Sephardim of oriental extraction.

To most Israelis, who are not particularly religious, the fine points of Jewish law matter little.

God and His church by giving a tenth of their increase. TITHING IS GOD'S INVITATION TO FORM A PARTNERSHIP WITH THE ONLY CORPORATION THAT
CAN'T GO BROKE. Salvation cost God
His only Son ... what has it cost you? "The tenth is Holy unto the Lord," Lev. 27:32. "Those who withhold more than is right will come to poverty," Prov. 11:24

— Want ads work wonders.

Act 1 protects train crewmen's jobs and paychecks.

If anyone tells you that Act 1 is going to cost train crewmen their jobs or make them take a cut in earnings, they aren't telling you the truth.

If anyone tells you that Act 1 is going to lower railroad safety standards or mean more accidents, they aren't giving you the facts.

The facts are that the United Transportation Union—the train crewmen's own union—has agreed that fewer men are needed to run a modern diesel-powered freight train efficiently and safely. In fact, the UTU and railroad management in Arkansas have already signed contracts on the methods of carrying out Act 1 when it's passed on November 7.

No one will lose his job. Rather, as men are promoted, retire or leave train service, the unneeded jobs simply will not be refilled.

Keep this in mind, too. If Act 1 doesn't pass, an extra charge will be levied on all freight cars loaded or unloaded in Arkansas.

This year, vote for job protection for train crewmen. And keep Arkansas on the move.

Vote FOR Act 1.

When you vote FOR Act 1, you won't cost anyone his job.
